Bodyguard.

Mercenary.

Gun for hire.

I didn't care what you called it, the end result was always the same.

You paid me for a job, you got results. The Marines trained me to shoot, but life taught me to aim. Working for the best personal security firm in the business was a stepping stone. Put in my time, build the resume, then move on. I didn't do attachments, on any level.

Until a smoking-hot former one-night stand crossed the street in front of me, holding hands with a kid who was my spitting image. She tried to play it off, deny he was mine. She said she didn't even remember me, right before she picked her kid up and ran. She thought she'd made a clean escape.

But she was about to find out how merciless a bodyguard could be.
